After almost 20 months of its appointment, the Board of Inquiry on the assassination of Daphne Caruana Galizia has published its report. In its extensive and exhaustive analysis of the acts and facts, it calls upon the Maltese Authorities to shoulder responsibility for failing to protect the journalist's life, creating a general feeling of impunity among criminals, allowing secrecy and privacy rules to tamper the right to transparency, acting lethargically in the pursue of justice, allowing a system of convenience and mutual protection of powers and big business seeking personal gain.

The CHANCE Network, once again, confirms its solidarity and support to, and stands by the side of, the righteous advocates of Transparency, Legality, Rule of Law, who have been raising their heads and voices to demand Truth and Justice for Daphne Caruana Galizia, her family, and the entire Maltese population.

Today, we are witnessing the placement of a new milestone in the long path to Justice. With renewed confidence and an even louder voice, we consider this as a new beginning. A new starting point, where Civil Society finally converges with Public Authorities, genuinely interested in an ethical development of the Country.

In Daphne's footsteps, our voices will shake less, and our commitment will grow more.
